		Release 2008/06	/13 : CIA-RDF	80-00810A0	05800060009-6		J/ 1
	CLASSIF	ICATION SECRET
COUNTRY_	East Germany			REPORT
TOPIC	Quartering Area	Mech	Div and t	he 2d Light	Arty Brig	25)	X1
	in Doeberitz
EVALUATION		CE O	BTAINED			25	5X1
DATE OF CO	ONTEN					25X1
DATE OBTAI	NED			27	December 1954	25X1	_
REFERENCE	:S=					25X1 _
PAGES	4ENCLOSUR	ES (NO. & TYPE)
REMARKS_				Company and the Company and the Company
 	,,			I. f (* )		25X1
		This is UNI	EVALUATED	Information		20/1
	Doeberitz was stired-bordered blace the Adler Kaserne 2,500 soldiers we with tank insignirecruits. Groups leaving for firing 23 November,	ek epaulets inc e (2063) in Doe earing red-bord a. The occupat of recruits in g with carbine by tank in th	luding some beritz was ered black ion of the company st s at the Do	with artil occupied by epaulets, i two install rength were eberitz tra	lery insignia as approximately ncluding some ations included repeatedly seen ining grounds.	<sub>n</sub> 25X1
. 2.	In late November corner of Olympia transport unit of epaulets including observed there. artillery unit was	and early becending Derry (206) approximately	mber, an in 7) in Doeber 300 soldier tor transpor	stallation ritz was oc rs who wore rt insignia	in the southwest cupied by a motor blue-bordered	t 25X1 or olack ere
3.							25X1
4.	Between 10 November was occupied by a epaulets. Formation weapons at platoon driving school transfer were heard from the infantry training	pprofitation of a property of the control of the co	000 soldier installati peatedly ob Lager tows a. On 27 No	s who wore on and fie served. On rd Dallgow vember. 150	red-bordered bl ld training with 26 November, 11 Reports of mor soldiers recei	ack	×
							25 X 1

CLASSIFICATION APPROVED Approved For Release 2008/06/13 : CIA-RDP80-00810A005800060009-6

25X1

5. On 5 December, an area of 200 x 200 meters just north of Hamburger Chaussee in the area of Clympisches Dorf (2057) in Doeberitz was surrounded by a new fence. Along the north side of the fence, there was a lean-to roof which sheltered approximately 60 trucks. The other installations of Olympisches Dorf appeared to be occupied to capacity.  4. On 28 November, 20 gans similar to 122-mm field howitzers but acceptable to the capacity.  5. On 12/13 November, 5 M-31 rooket launchers, 5 x 37-mm Ai guns and 1 x 172-mm field howitzer were seen in Altes lager in Doeberitz.  The occupation of the installation still included the driving school unit which was also called "machine school". Captain Timochenko was observed with the engineer unit in Olympisches Dorf, soldiers of which wore black-bordered black epaulets with engineer insignia.  On 7 Docember, 18 x 100-mm AT guns were lined up in front of a gun shed in the nurtering area of the unit of Colonel Boukko. The guns were no longer seen there on 9 December.  8. At shout 1400 on 8 December, the bading of 20 x 100-mm AT guns was almost completed at the Deligow-Doeberitz railroad station.  9. Setween 15 November and 1 December, the Alter-Loewen Kasarne, the Altes Lager, the Olympisches Dorf and the barracks installation for the training grounds.  10. The training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all Installations had been substituted by new two-ast brucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence and other work at the training grounds.  11. Retween 16 November and 6 December, the Altes Lager including the Cardestern building and the former knoemdatura, the west section of the training area continued. Approximately 500 soldiers from the installation were employed in the construction of the fence and other work at the training grounds.  12. Retween 16 November and 6 December, the Altes Lager including the Cardestern building and the former knoemdatura, the west section of the fence and other work at the fifting ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue once of the su	•	SECRET chaussee in the area of Olympisches Dorf (2007) in Doeberitz was surrounded by a new fence. Along the north side of the fence, there was a lean-to roof which sheltered approximately 60 trucks. The other installations of Olympisches Dorf appeared to be occupied to capacity.  6. On 28 November, 20 guns similar to 122-mm field howitzers but somewhat lower and 6 x 100-mm AI guns were unloyded at the Dallgow-Doeberitz realiroad station. The guns were towed away by trucks.  7. On 12/15 November, 3 1-31 rooket launchers, 5 x 37-mm AA guns and 1 x 122-mm field howitzer were seen in Altes Lager in Doeberitz.  The occupation of the installation still included the driving school unit which was also called "machine school". Captain Timoshenko was observed with the engineer unit in Olympisches Dorf, soldiers of which were black-bordered black epsulets with engineer insights.  On Theoseber, 18 x 100-mm AI guns were lined up in front of a gun shed in the nurrering area of the unit of Colonel Boshko. The guns were no longer seen there on 3 Docember.  8. At shout 1400 on 8 December, the kading of 20 x 100-mm AI guns was almost completed at the Deligow-Doeberitz reilroad station.  9. Between 15 November and 1 December, the Aller-Loewen Kasserne, the Altes Lager, the Olympisches Dorf and the burnneks installation west of Clympisches Derf (2005) in Doeberitz were occupied to dapacity. On 25 November, 8 n-34 tanks left the last mentioned installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installations had been substituted by new two-axile trucks with four-wheel drive. The comstruction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the training area continued. Approximately 250 coldiers were incomed to the realist may be a substitute of the training grounds.  10. Between 16 November and 6 December, the Altes Lager including the Cardestorn building and the former foncemandature, the west section of the bear axis in the training grounds. Along the proper in the part of the part of the part of the pa what lower and 6 x 100-mm AT guns were unloaded at the Dallow- Deberitz railroad station. The guns were towed away by trucks.  7. On 12/13 November, 3 M-91 rocket launchers, 5 x 37-mm AA guns and 1 x 172-mm field howitser were seen in Altes Lager in Doeberitz.  The occupation of the installation still included the driving school unit which was also called "machine school". Captain Timoshenko was observed with the engineer unit in Olympisches Dorf, soldiers of which were black-bordered black epaulets with engineer insignia. On 1 Docember, 18 x 100-mm AT guns were lined up in front of a gun shed in the nuertering area of the unit of Colonel Boshko. The guns were no longer seen there on 9 December.  8. At about 1400 on 8 December, the bading of 20 x 100-mm AT guns was almost completed at the Deligow-Doeberitz railroad station.  9. Between 15 November and 1 December, the Adler-Loewen Kaserne, the Altes Lager, the Olympisches Dorf-and the barracks installation west of Clympisches Dorf (2065) in Doeberitz were occupied to capacity. On 25 November, 8 7-94 tanks left the last mentioned installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installations had been substituted by new two-axels trucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the training area continued. Approximately 500 soldiers from the installations were employed in the construction of the fence and other work at the training ground ship of and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doeberitz were occupied by soldiers wearing red-bordered black equalots. Bacic training and, occasionally, training in firing was observed at the firing ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue work of small details was observed in the training grounds which appeared rather onlet, Annovametal; 200 soldiers wearing red-bordered black and black-bordered crimson equal-tax were employed at the cantonment on Lagerstrase about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed around the camp and o	5.	Chaussee in the area of Olympisches Dorf (2057) in Doeberitz was surrounded by a new fence. Along the north side of the fence, there was a lean-to roof which sheltered approximately 60 trucks. The other installations of Olympisches Dorf appeared to be occupied to
The occupation of the installation still included the driving school unit which was also called "machine school". Captain Timoshenko was observed with the engineer unit in Olympisches Dorf, soldiers of which wore black-bordered black egaulets with engineer insignia.  On Tocomber, 18 x 100-mm aff guns were lined up in front of a gun shed in the nurriering area of the unit of Colonel Boshko. The guns were no longer seen there on 9 Docember.  8. At about 1400 on 8 Docember, the bading of 20 x 100-mm AT guns was almost completed at the Dallgow-Doeberitz railroad station.  9. Between 15 November and 1 Docember, the Adler-Loewen Kaserne, the Altes Loger, the Olympisches Dorf, and the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf, and the barracks installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installations had been substituted by new two-axie trucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the training area continued. Approximately 500 soldiers from the installations were employed in the construction of the fence and other work at the training grounds.  1. Between 16 November and 6 Docember, the Altes Lager including the Gardestern building and the former komendatura, the west section of the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doebertiz were occupied by soldiers wearing red-bordered black equilets. Basic training and, occasionally, training in firing was observed at the firing ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue work of small details was observed in the training grounds which appeared rather quiet. Approximately 270 soldiers wearing red-bordered black and black-bordered crimson eagilets were employed at the cantomment on Lagerstrasse about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed around the camp and observation towers with searchlights were erected. 4	6.	what lower and 6 x 100-mm AT guns were unlocded at the Dallgow-	4
school unit which was also called "machine school". Captain Timoshenko was observed with the engineer unit in Olympisches Dorf, soldiers of which wore black-bordered black epsulets with engineer insignia.  On 7 December, 18 x 100-mm AT guns were lined up in front of a gun shed in the nurriering area of the unit of Colonel Boshko. The guns were no longer seen there on 9 December.  8. At about 1400 on 8 December, the bading of 20 x 100-mm AT guns was almost completed at the Deligow-Doeberitz railroad station.  9. Retween 15 November and 1 December, the Adler-Loewen Kaserne, the Altes Lager, the Olympisches Dorf. Fand the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf (205) in Doeberitz were occupied to capacity.  On 25 November, 8 T-$4 tanks left the last mentioned installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installations had been substituted by new two-axls trucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the treining area continued. Approximately 50s soldiers from the installations were employed in the construction of the fence and other work at the training grounds.  11. Between 16 November and 6 December, the Altes Lager including the Gardestern building and the former komendatura, the west section of the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doeberitz were occupied by soldiers wearing read-bordered black and black-bordered crimson enaulets were employed at the cantonment on Lagerstresse about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed around the camp and observation towers with searchlights were erected. 4	7.		25X which wore black-bordered black epaulets with engineer insignia.  On 7 December, 18 x 100-mm AT guns were lined up in front of a gun shed in the quartering area of the unit of Colonel Boshko. The guns were no longer seen there on 9 December.  8. At about 1400 on 8 December, the loading of 20 x 100-mm AT guns was almost completed at the Dallgow-Doeberitz railroad station.  9. Between 15 November and 1 December, the Adler-Loewen Kaserne, the Altes Leger, the Olympisches Dorf.and the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf (2065) in Doeberitz were occupied to capacity. On 25 November, 8 T-34 tanks left the last mentioned installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installations had been substituted by new two-axis trucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the training area continued. Approximately 500 soldiers from the installations were employed in the construction of the fence and other work at the training grounds.  11. Between 16 November and 6 December, the Altes Lager including the Cardestern building and the former komendatura, the west section of the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doeberitz were occupied by soldiers wearing red-bordered black equalits. Basic training and, occasionally, training in firing was observed at the faring ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue work of smal' details was observed in the training grounds which appeared rather quiet, Approximately 270 soldiers wearing red-bordered black and black-bordered crimson epaulets were employed at the cantonment on Lagerstrasse about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed around the camp and observation towers with searchlights were erected.  25X1		school unit which was also called "machine school". Captain Timoshenko	25 X 1
9. Between 15 November and 1 December, the Adler-Loewen Kaserne, the Altes Lager, the Olympisches Dorf.and the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf.and the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf.and the barracks installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installation had been substituted by new two-axle trucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the training area continued. Approximately 500 soldiers from the installations were employed in the construction of the fence and other work at the training grounds.  10. Between 16 November and 6 December, the Altes Lager including the Gardestern building and the former komendatura, the west section of the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doeberitz were occupied by soldiers wearing red-bordered black equalets. Basic training and occasionally, training in firing was observed at the firing ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue work of small details was observed in the training grounds which appeared rather quiet. Approximately 200 soldiers wearing red-bordered black and black-bordered crimson engulets were employed at the cantonment on Lagerstrasse about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed around the camp and observation towers with searchlights were erected. 4		which wore black-bordered black epaulets with engineer insignia.  On 7 December, 18 x 100-mm AT guns were lined up in front of a gun shed in the quartering area of the unit of Colonel Boshko. The guns were no	25X1
Altes Lager, the Olympisches Dorf.and the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf (2065) in Doeberitz were occupied to capacity.  On 25 November, 8 T-34 tanks left the last mentioned installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installations had been substituted by new two-axle trucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the training area continued. Approximately 500 soldiers from the installations were employed in the construction of the fence and other work at the training grounds.  10. Between 16 November and 6 December, the Altes Lager including the Gardestern building and the former komendatura, the west section of the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doeberitz were occupied by soldiers wearing red-bordered black evaulets. Basic training and, occasionally, training in firing was observed at the fibring ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue work of smal' details was observed in the training grounds which appeared rather quiet, Approximately 200 soldiers wearing red-bordered black and black-bordered crimson equilets were employed at the cantonment on Lagerstrasse about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed around the camp and observation towers with searchlights were erected. 4	8
Gardestern building and the former komendatura, the west section of the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doeberitz were occupied by soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets. Basic training and, occasionally, training in firing was observed at the firing ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue work of small details was observed in the training grounds which appeared rather quiet. Approximately 200 soldiers wearing red-bordered dack and black-bordered crimson equilets were employed at the cantonment on Lagerstrasse about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed around the camp and observation towers with searchlights were erected.4	9.	Altes Lager, the Olympisches Dorf and the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf (2065) in Doeberitz were occupied to capacity.  On 25 November, 8 T-34 tanks left the last mentioned installation for the training grounds. Part of the old trucks of all installations had been substituted by new two-axle trucks with four-wheel drive. The construction of a fence south of Hamburger Chaussee at the northern border of the training area continued. Approximately 500 soldiers from the installations were employed in the construction of the fence and
25X1	10.	Gardestern building and the former komendatura, the west section of the barracks installation west of Olympisches Dorf and the Adler-Loewen Kaserne in Doeberitz were occupied by soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets. Basic training and, occasionally, training in firing was observed at the Miring ranges near Kesselbruch and fatigue work of small details was observed in the training grounds which appeared rather quiet. Approximately 200 soldiers wearing red-bordered black and black-bordered crimson epaulets were employed at the cantonment on Lagerstrasse about 2 km south of Altes Lager. Two barbed-wire fences were being constructed	25X1
			25X′
		SECRET;	25 X 1

	SECRET - 3 -	25X1
		25X1
12.	3	25 X 1
13.	On 7 December , 24 x 100-mm AT guns were loaded on 12 flatcars and 1 converted boxcar at the Dallgow-Doeberitz railroad station. The shipment left in the morning of 8 December . <sup>2</sup>	25X1
1.	Comment. The installation in the southwest corner of Olympisches Dorf which was newly prepared in November, possibly quartered the unidentified Motor Trans Bn of the 1st Mech Div	25X1
2	Driving School Unit Kovalyev, in the Loewen Kaserne probably uses the motor vehicles of the battalion since no vehicles have so far been observed in the quartering area of the driving school unit.	25 X 1
2.	had arrived on 28 November and 3 December, probably for the 2d Light Arty.  The brigade is believed to have turned in 24 x 100-mm AT guns, the equipment of its heavy regiment, on 8 Décember. This tends to indicate that the heavy AT regiments of the artillery brigades, at least of the mechanized armies, were reequipped as howitzer regiments. Indications for such a reequipping were also observed with the 71st Light	25X1 23A1
۲.	Arty Brig of the Fourth Gds Mech Army in Bernau.	25X1 25X1
	SECRET	25X1

	SECRET	25X1
		25X1
4.	distribution of units of the 1st Mech Div in the military installations of the Doeberitz post. Prior to early December, training concentrated on basic training and training in firing, predominantly of recruits, while trained personnel were increasingly employed in fatigue duty.	25X1
	The cantonment 2 km south of Altes Lager appears to be an ammunition depot. confirms the 219th Tank Regt of the 1st Mech Div in Doeberitz until 13 November 1954.	25X1
	SECRET:	25X1